

Kimberly A. Buchheit, Professional Surveyor & Mapper

After earning her BA Degree in Geography from SUNY Buffalo, Ms. Buchheit began her Land Surveying career in Naples, Florida in 1983. Kim settled in the Orlando area in the mid-eighties and worked diligently to qualify and become a Florida Professional Land Surveyor (PSM) in 1990. She founded Buchheit Associates, Inc. Surveyors & Mappers in 1991, which she continues to own and operate as a 100% Woman Owned Business.

During her professional career encompassing nearly 35 years, Ms. Buchheit has performed work on a wide variety of surveying and mapping projects from routine land surveying and engineering design to managing surveys required for complex, multi-disciplinary land development and public works infrastructure projects. Kim is particularly fond of the legal aspects of surveying and helping to resolve boundary problems. Kim is a qualified expert witness, having testified in several court cases concerning surveying and matters of title. Kim is currently pursuing consulting opportunities on a "project by project" basis. Kim assists attorneys and private clients with eminent domain issues, property transactions and management of real property assets. Kim is also a licensed Florida Real Estate Sales Associate.

As a licensed Continuing Education Provider since 2008, Kim has presented workshops at local, state and national conferences pertaining to boundary surveying, real property issues, historic topics, business management strategies and custom designed programs for professionals in surveying and related fields. Most recently, Kim has been conducting detailed research pertaining to surveys conducted by Henry David Thoreau from 1846-1861 and is developing several customized programs to present the material in educational settings.

Kim lives, works and plays on her "farmette" in Apopka, Florida in the shadow of Orlando's northwesterly expressway loop. She is often seen operating a tractor, tending to gardens or other hobbies and driving her Wise Acre Farm project forward. Kim has been an active member of professional organizations and participates in many community oriented endeavors. As a dedicated volunteer for Farm Aid since 2003, Kim is passionate about helping to promote a thriving family farmed food system.
